

Within its 25 million acre expanse, an area the size of Ohio, lies a land of extreme contrast. From the relatively high Mojave desert to Joshua trees and cactuses to the lower California Desert of native fan palms, some trees and shrubs, the California Desert Conservation Area offers a multitude of recreational opportunities. Whether you have come to hike or backpack, run by auto, enjoy your vehicle or ride mountain bikes, please "Tread Lightly!" on the desert and "Leave No Trace" of your visit.

ARIZONA
Points of Interest
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) is a vast, diverse landscape that spans across the state of Arizona. It is home to a wide variety of plant and animal life, including the iconic saguaro cactus and the elusive desert bighorn sheep. The CDCA is also a popular destination for outdoor recreation, offering a wealth of opportunities for hiking, camping, and wildlife viewing. Visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles to ensure the preservation of this unique environment for future generations.

CALIFORNIA
Points of Interest
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) is a vast, diverse landscape that spans across the state of California. It is home to a wide variety of plant and animal life, including the iconic saguaro cactus and the elusive desert bighorn sheep. The CDCA is also a popular destination for outdoor recreation, offering a wealth of opportunities for hiking, camping, and wildlife viewing. Visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles to ensure the preservation of this unique environment for future generations.

Who Manages THE DESERT?
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) is managed by the U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management (BLM). The BLM is responsible for the conservation and management of public lands, including the CDCA. The BLM works to protect the natural resources of the CDCA while also providing opportunities for outdoor recreation. The BLM is committed to the "Leave No Trace" principles and encourages visitors to follow these guidelines to ensure the preservation of the CDCA for future generations.

RECREATION INFORMATION
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) offers a wide variety of recreational opportunities for visitors. From hiking and backpacking to camping and wildlife viewing, there is something for everyone in the CDCA. Visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles to ensure the preservation of the CDCA for future generations. For more information on recreational opportunities in the CDCA, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

Hunting and Target Shooting
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) offers a variety of hunting and target shooting opportunities for visitors. Hunting is allowed in certain areas of the CDCA, and target shooting is also permitted in designated areas. Visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles and to obtain the necessary permits and licenses before hunting or target shooting. For more information on hunting and target shooting in the CDCA, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

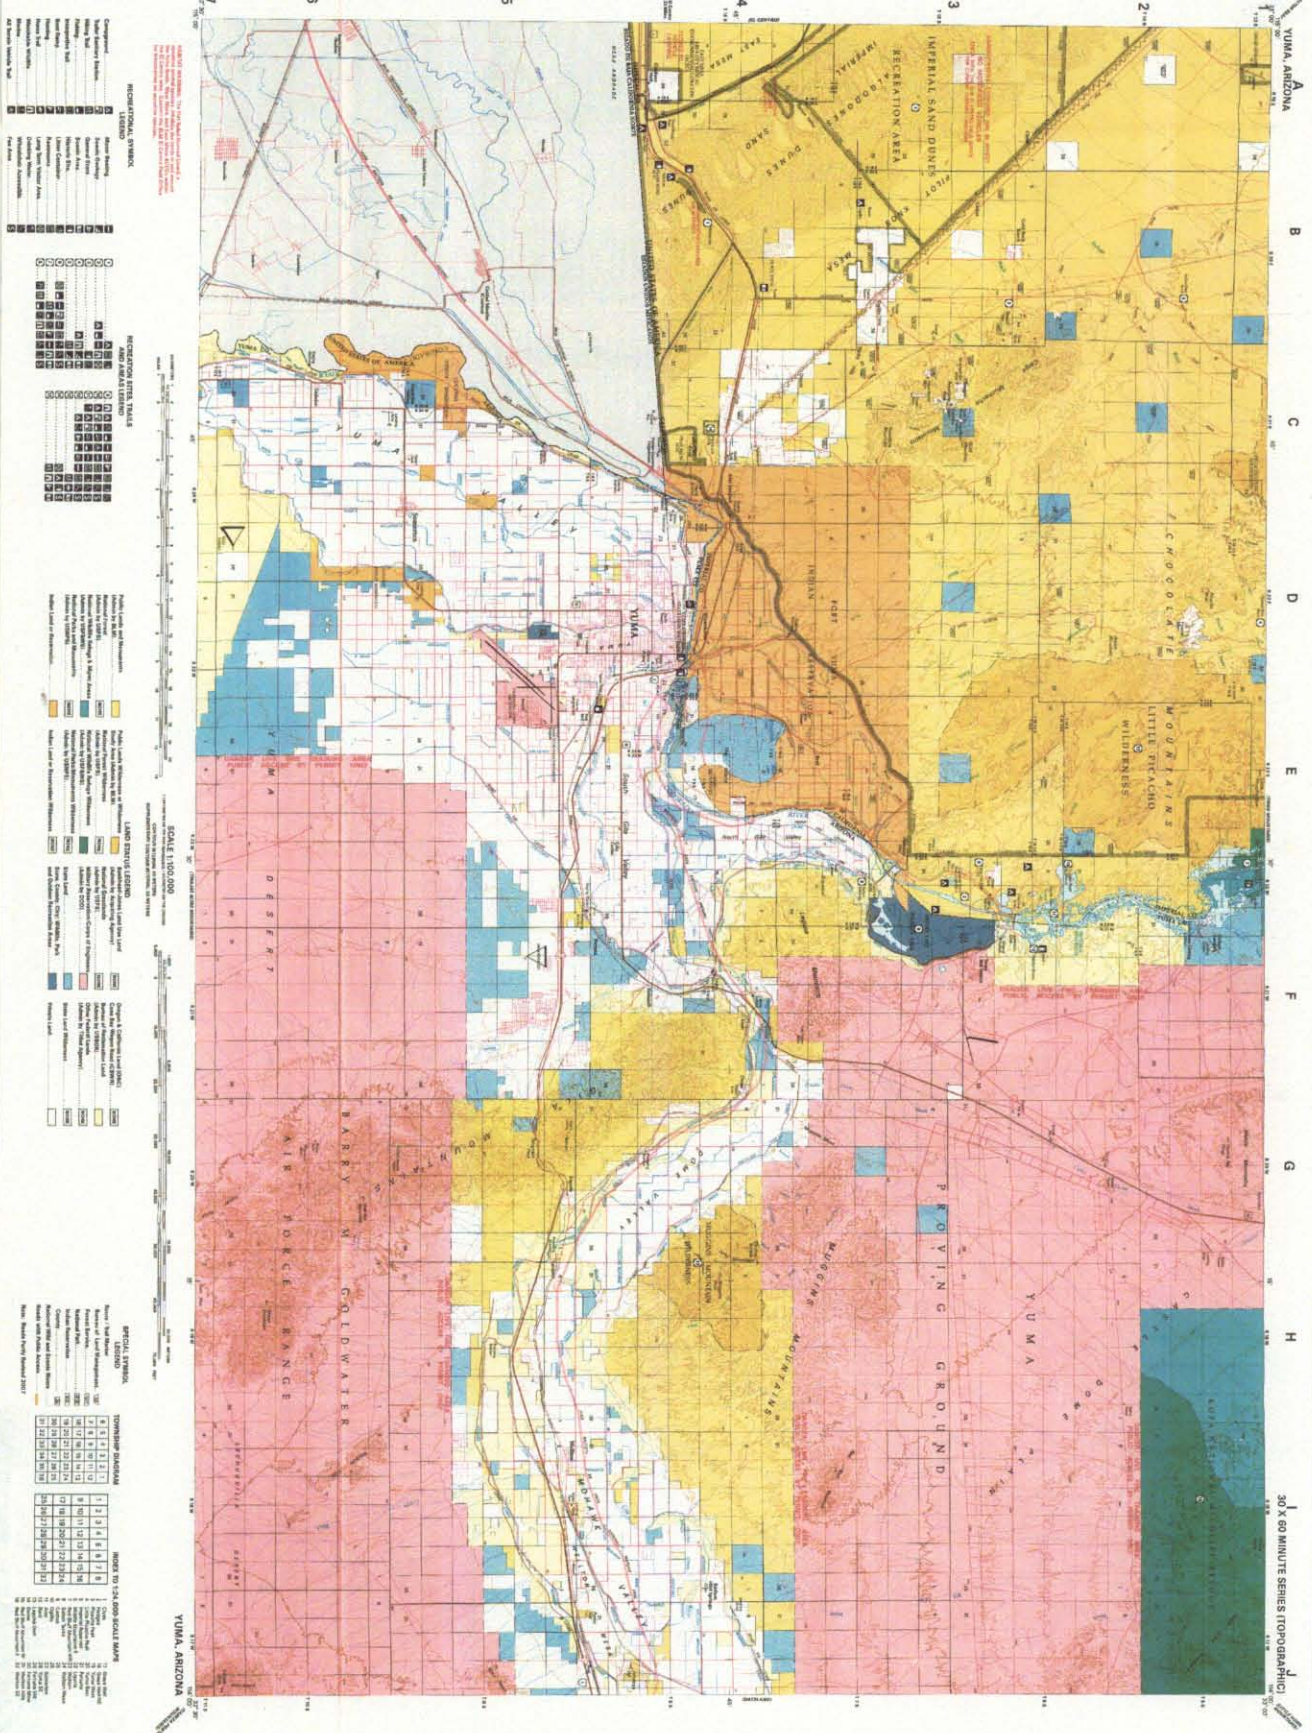

Wilderness and ACECs
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) contains several designated wilderness areas and Antiquities and Cultural Easements (ACECs). These areas are protected to preserve their natural resources and provide opportunities for outdoor recreation. Visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles and to obtain the necessary permits and licenses before visiting these areas. For more information on wilderness and ACECs in the CDCA, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

Threatened and Endangered Species
The California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) is home to several threatened and endangered species. These species are protected by law, and visitors are encouraged to follow the "Leave No Trace" principles to ensure their preservation. Visitors are also encouraged to report any sightings of these species to the BLM. For more information on threatened and endangered species in the CDCA, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

DESERT SAFETY TIPS
Visiting the California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) can be a rewarding experience, but it is important to take certain safety precautions. Visitors should always wear their seat belts, avoid drinking and driving, and never get behind the wheel if they have been drinking. Visitors should also be aware of the weather conditions and take appropriate precautions to avoid heat-related illnesses. For more information on desert safety tips, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

Domestic Animals
Visitors to the California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) are encouraged to keep their domestic animals under control at all times. Dogs should be kept on a leash, and horses and livestock should be kept in designated areas. Visitors are also encouraged to clean up after their animals and to avoid feeding them. For more information on domestic animal regulations in the CDCA, please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website.

For More INFORMATION
For more information on the California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA), please contact the BLM or visit the CDCA website. The BLM is committed to the conservation and management of public lands, including the CDCA, and is dedicated to providing opportunities for outdoor recreation. The BLM is also committed to the "Leave No Trace" principles and encourages visitors to follow these guidelines to ensure the preservation of the CDCA for future generations.

ARIZONA

Yuma

2007

BLM

Surface Management Status

100,000 Scale Topographic Map

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT

Yuma District

Yuma, Arizona

Map Date

Map Author

Map Editor

Map Reviewer

Map Approval

Map Distribution

Map Contact

Map Notes

Map Legend

Map Scale

Map Grid

Map Coordinates

Map Title

Map Date

Map Author

Map Editor

Map Reviewer

Map Approval

Map Distribution

Map Contact

Map Notes

Map Legend

Map Scale

Map Grid

Map Coordinates

TOPOGRAPHIC MAP SYMBOLS

Legend

Scale

Grid

Coordinates

Map Title

Map Date

Map Author

Map Editor

Map Reviewer

Map Approval

Map Distribution

Map Contact

Map Notes

Map Legend

Map Scale

Map Grid

Map Coordinates